

15 Sept. 9 a.m. Istituto di Studi Avanzati
Aula Enriques

Hypotheses of periodization (2nd part)

Chair: Donald Lowe
San Francisco State University

Tani Barlow
University of Washington
Era and Event

Judith Balso
European Graduate School, Leuk
The Influence of the Chinese Politics on the Formation of Innovative Political Categories in France After 1968

Fabio Lanza
University of Arizona
The Scholar Activist and the (Cold) War. The Concerned Asian Scholars

Alessandro Russo
Università di Bologna
The Hollow Imprint. The 1975-76 Dispute Between Mao and Deng and the Post-Cold War China

Wang Hui
Qinghua University, Beijing
Conclusive Remarks

15 Sept. 2.30 p.m. Istituto di Studi Avanzati
Aula Enriques

Roundtable: The 20th Century China Research Project

Sponsored by

Alma Mater Studiorum-Università di Bologna
Associazione Collegio di Cina
Dipartimento di Studi Linguistici e Orientali
Facoltà di Lettere e Filosofia
Istituto di Studi Avanzati

Scientific Committee

Alain Badiou
Tani Barlow
Donald Lowe
Claudia Pozzana
Alessandro Russo
Wang Hui

Accademia delle Scienze
Via Zamboni, 31

Dipartimento di Studi Linguistici e Orientali
Via Zamboni, 33

Istituto di Studi Avanzati
Via Fantin, 15

www.collegiodicina.it

China in the Cold War Era

An International Workshop of the 20th Century China Research Project

Università degli Studi di Bologna
Dipartimento di Studi Linguistici e Orientali
September 13-15, 2007

13 Sept. 9 a.m. Accademia delle Scienze
Sala Ulisse

Welcoming Remarks

Prof. Pier Ugo Calzolari
Magnifico Rettore dell'Università di Bologna

Prof. Roberto Grandi
pro Rettore per le Relazioni Internazionali
Presidente dell'Associazione Collegio di Cina

Prof. Giorgio Renato Franci
Direttore del Dipartimento di Studi Linguistici e Orientali
Presidente dell'Accademia delle Scienze

9.30 a.m.

Claudia Pozzana
Università di Bologna
The 20th Century China Research Project. A Second Workshop

War and Politics (1st part)

Chair: Tani Barlow
University of Washington

Alain Badiou
École Normale Supérieure, Paris
The People's War as a Political Concept

Marilyn Young
New York University
The US Projection of China as the Old/New Enemy

Rebecca Karl
New York University
Mao and the Cold War

Edoarda Masi
Già Istituto Orientale di Napoli
About the Conflict Between Chinese and Soviet Communists

13 Sept. 2.30 p.m. Accademia delle Scienze
Sala Ulisse

War and Politics (2nd part)

Chair: Alessandro Russo
Università di Bologna

Bruce Cumings
University of Chicago

From Containment to Regime Change and Back: How a Debacle in North Korea Stabilized Cold War Strategy for 40 Years

Sylvain Lazarus
Université de Paris VIII
The Korean War in the Chinese Political History. Some Propositions

Alberto Toscano
Goldsmiths, University of London
Mao's New Nomos? Partisanship, Warfare, Geopolitics

Fabio Mini
Generale di Corpo d'Armata in ausiliaria
The Chinese Legacy of the Cold War: A Pearl Necklace

14 Sept. 9.30 a.m. Dipartimento
di Studi Linguistici e Orientali

Economy and Politics in the Socialist State

Chair: Wang Hui
Qinghua University, Beijing

Pierre-Noël Giraud
Université de Paris VII
Was There an Economy in the Socialist State? Lessons from the Collapse of the Soviet Union

Lin Chun
London School of Economics
The Paradoxes of Maoist Developmental Strategy

Lü Xinyu
Fudan University, Shanghai
Some Arguments about the Socialization of Rural China: A Historical Perspective

Cui Zhiyuan
Qinghua University, Beijing
Taking China's 'Socialist Market Economy' Seriously

14 Sept. 2.30 p.m. Dipartimento
di Studi Linguistici e Orientali

Hypotheses of Periodization (1st part)

Chair: Alain Badiou
École Normale Supérieure, Paris

Natacha Michel
Romancière et essayiste, Paris
How Can One Be Chinese?

Chris Connery
University of California, Santa Cruz
The Dialectics of Antirevisionism. Early Globalization and the End of the Sixties

Michael Dutton
Goldsmiths, University of London
The State of the Cold War

Claudia Pozzana
Università di Bologna
Political Predicament and Artistic Self-determination. The Rise of the Tide of New Poetry in the Late Seventies